

“WHEN KNIGHTS WERE BOLD”

Jack Buchanan's New Film at the London Pavilion

NONE BUT THE BRAVE: Jack Buchanan, transported back a few hundred years as the result of a blow on the head, and incidentally wearing chain mail that falls a little below his usual standard of tailoring, fights with a rival claimant to his lady's hand

(Right) TOGETHER AGAIN: Jack Buchanan and Fay Wray, fresh from a very recent success in "Come Out of the Pantry," are opposite each other again in "When Knights Were Bold." Jack Buchanan plays a young officer in the Indian Army who unexpectedly inherits a title and property

BEFORE BATTLE: Jack Buchanan leads his mediæval retainers against Sir Brian Ballymote. The film is based on Christopher Marlowe's famous play of the same name, and has a number of songs specially written for it
